Service in Style!

Aqualisa's service engineers have hit the road in style: the Kent-based shower manufacturer has just invested in a fleet of brand new vans to take care of its nationwide service calls.

The vans, which are all Vauxhall Vivaros, apart from a smaller, congestion-charge friendly, Vauxhall Combo, made their motorway debut at the end of March. Custom specified with all mod cons including satellite navigation and tracking and featuring stop-and-stare wraparound graphics, the vans have gone down a treat with Aqualisa's service engineers and customers alike.

Customer Service Manager, Martyn Brown says,

"Aqualisa has always strived to provide an excellent after sales service and the new vans are part of our continued focus on enhancing customer care. The vehicles are exceptionally well equipped and their livery is also extremely distinctive – aspects we feel are vital in our ongoing efforts to ensure the Aqualisa customer experience is second to none."
